

Crow Stone Tone Poem

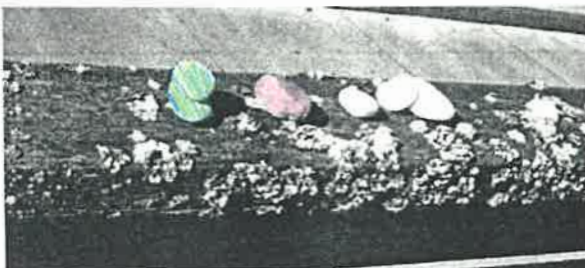

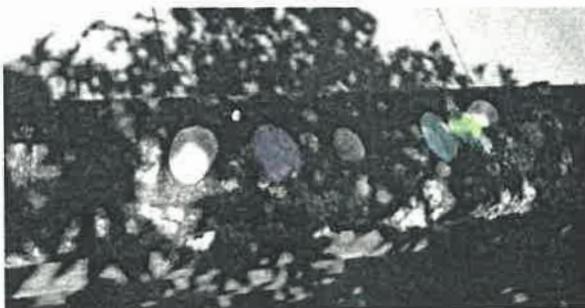

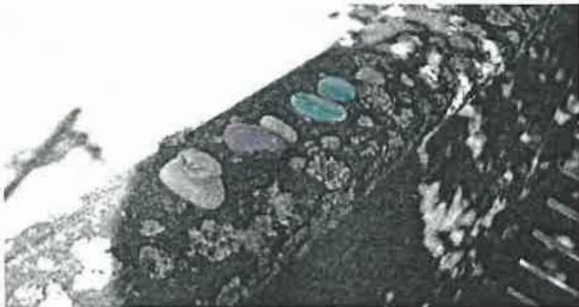

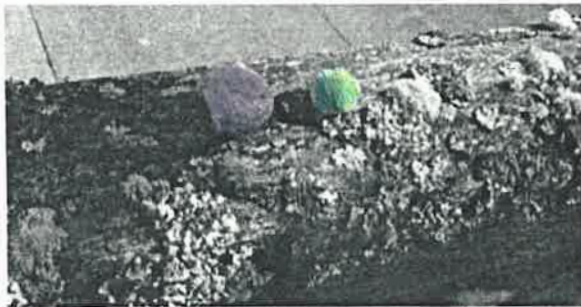

2016-20

by Julie Andreyev and a crow

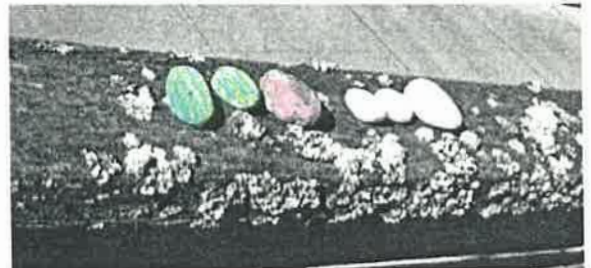

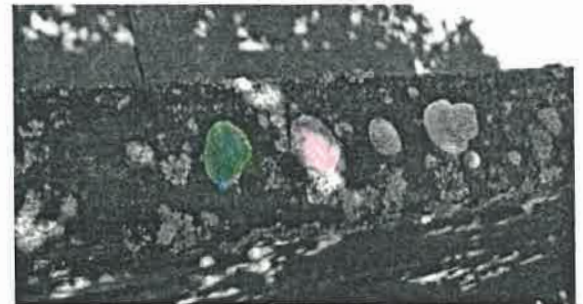

A collaboration with a free-living crow who lives in the territory that includes my home. This project is based on interspecies play using stones, initiated by the adult crow who gifted me a pebble as acknowledgement for water I left for his family. The ten stone arrangements that we created are adapted into a score.

photographs of the 10 stone arrangements hand coloured to emphasize the different stones

Crow's

Julie's

legend for the score showing the 6 different stones

1 = granite, pink, cube big

2 = sandstone, blue-green, round medium

3 = marble, white, long small with dark bits

4 = marble, white, long large

5 = marble, white, round small

6 = sandstone, blue-green, flat medium

2

1

1

2

3

4

1

5

6

2

4

1

3

6

5

2

4

1

3

2

5

6

2

6

1

3

5

4

